Report of the Board of Education.

NO 1.—KELLY DISTRICT.

Both summer and fall term of eight and twelve weeks, taught by Miss Mary A. Mason of Loudon.

This school consists of twenty scholars, very bright and active, and it requires a teacher with patience and at the same time a good governess, in order to keep them in their proper position.

Miss Mason has given her attention to teaching for several years, is a very good tutor. Had she been a little more careful about discipline her school would have been a success in every particular.

Percentage of daily attendance, .9149.

No. of visitors first term, 22. Second term, 20.

NO. 2.—POTTER

First term of eight weeks, taught by Miss Winnie A. Page of Gilmanton.

In this school Miss Page made her first attempt to wield the birch. And no doubt she did everything in her power to make the term a success. Those that were present passed a good examination.

Percentage of daily attendance, .89.

No. of visitors, 16.

Fall term of thirteen weeks, taught by Miss Annie M. Barber of Gilmanton.

In this school, both teacher and scholars were united in their work. Wherever we find this to be the case, good results follow. Good advancement was made in a thorough manner. This term was a success in every particular.

Percentage of daily attendance for the year, .9421.

No. of visitors, 20.

No. 5.

Spring term of eight weeks, fall term of twelve weeks, taught by Miss Alice M. Ayer.

This school in most cases made very good advancement. In writing, Miss Ayer offered to the one who would make the greatest improvement, a prize, which was won by Master Curtis R. Brown. The bookkeeping blanks were very neatly copied. In spelling, Miss Nettie R. Peaslee missed only two words during the school year.

Percentage of daily attendance, .100.

No. visitors, 28.

No. 8.—ALLEN'S MILLS.

Summer term of eight weeks and fall term of twelve weeks, both taught by Miss Annie E. Weeks. Miss Weeks is an energetic and efficient teacher. She seemed to have the respect of her pupils, and they gave satisfactory evidence of thorough training. She not only taught her pupils from the text books, but gave them practical lessons in substantial adornment, with a view to preservation rather than destruction of the school room. The presents from pupils and expressions of the visitors at the close of school, both bespoke satisfaction on the part of the district.

No. of visitors, 26.

Percentage of daily attendance, .8571.

No. 9.—CORNER.

Summer term, taught by Miss Lillian M. Eveleth, a teacher of ability and experience. This is Miss Eveleth's second term in this district. She has a faculty of gaining the good will of all of her pupils, and once gained, it is held fast, thus calling out all of the best impulses of the children toward good behavior and strict attention to study. I think this was a successful term in every way.

Full term, taught by Miss Arabelle Z. Hodgdon. The teacher labored earnestly for the best good of her pupils, and with satisfactory success. The exercises at the close were very interesting and well rendered. Perhaps the geography classes here made the best record, each showing a thoroughness unsurpassed by any other school for the year. The reading, especially of the youngest classes showed quite an interest on their part, and faithful work by the teacher.

Percentage of daily attendance, .881.

No. of visitors, 42.

NO. 11.—GALE DISTRICT.

Spring term of eight weeks; winter term of twelve weeks, both under the instruction of Miss Minnie E. Nelson, a very thorough and systematic teacher. Miss Nelson's reputation for excellence and worth in the school room is too well known, in this town to need any commendation from us. This teacher has taught successfully in this school for several years, in fact, some of the younger scholars hardly have recollections of any other teacher. To say that this school is advancing mentally and otherwise is but true. Some of the scholars manifesting an eagerness for knowledge witnessed in no other school in this division. I think here is one of the best little scholars, for her age, in arithmetic, geography and grammar to be found in this division. Here too is noticed that which is so much needed in the most of our schools, and that is interest on the part of the parents in the education of their children. Indeed does not the culture of the child generally correspond with the interest taken by the parents? I leave the parents of other schools to answer. Nearly every family in this district were present at the closing exercises. Remarks eulogistic to the school were made by several present.

Spring term of eight weeks, fall term of twelve, both taught by Miss Carrie M. Sargent, a lady who has had considerable experience in teaching, therefore is not a novice at the business. This school, though small, made steady improvement throughout the year. Miss Sargent works hard in the school room, and seems to have a keen sense of the great trust imposed in the teacher. Order good.

NO. 3.—HALL'S HILL DISTRICT.

Spring term of eight weeks, fall term of twelve weeks, both taught by Miss Edith M. Page, who has had charge of this school for several terms, and has always given good satisfaction to the Board of Education and to the district, which would seem to substantiate the fact that she is the "right person in the right place." She maintained her reputation of being a good disciplinarian and instructor. The school room showed neatness on the part of scholars and teacher. Here are found scholars who seem to realize the importance of spending their school days profitably, consequently with a teacher ever on the alert to assist those in need of help, good results followed. Rhetorical exercises, well rendered, were worthy of mention.

NO. 6.—COGSWELL DISTRICT.

Spring term of eight weeks, taught by Miss Mabel E. Kelly. This was the second term Miss Kelly has taught this school, giving good satisfaction both terms. This teacher manages her school in a very easy and ladylike manner, there by gaining the esteem of her pupils, an element so necessary in a good school. A good degree of interest in their studies by the scholars is always noticeable in this school, consequently the progress was satisfactory. Miss Kelly possesses many natural abilities essential to the teacher.

Fall term of twelve weeks, Miss Lillian M. Eveleth, teacher. Miss Eveleth brought to this school the experience acquired by several years' teaching. She is a graduate of that time honored institution, Gilmanton Academy, and is a teacher of no ordinary ability. She seems to have a very keen perception of just what is needed in the school room and goes about it in a very systematic manner. Classes in arithmetic are worthy of mention.

No 13.—JONES' MILLS.

Summer term of eight weeks and fall term of twelve, both taught by Miss Mabelle A. D. Moore. Miss Moore is a young lady of thorough ability and a conscientious teacher.

The school gave evidence of thorough work in all of the classes, perhaps the arithmetic and reading excelled. If there is one thing needed in this district more than another, it is an interest on the part of the parents. And now let me prove this to you by citing to you the number of instances of tardiness in this little school of fifteen pupils; in 20 weeks of school, there were 293 instances of tardiness. I hope there is not another such record in the town or state.

Then I most certainly wish that the parents might take pride enough in their school house to teach their children not to destroy it, but teach them that in a measure it was their property and should be as carefully guarded as their respective homes.

There is and has been for the past four years a tendency on the part of some to leave school a few days before its close. This can be best remedied at home and if the parents give it proper thought, will be.

Spring term of eight weeks, taught by Mrs. Minnie Clark. Mrs. Clark is a hard worker in the school room and by her lady like manner soon gained the good will of her scholars.

Fall term of twelve weeks, taught by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Osborne.

The first eight weeks was taught by Mrs. Clark. Owing to death in the family Mrs. Clark was obliged to give up her duties. Mrs. Fannie Osborne was chosen to teach the remaining four weeks.

Notwithstanding the change the school passed a good examination.

No. 16.—SANBORN.

Summer term of eight weeks and fall term of twelve weeks, both taught by Miss Maud E. Gilman, a graduate of Rochester High school.

This was Miss Gilman's first school, yet she took up the duties in a systematic way, that way that would do credit to an older teacher. The parents expressed satisfaction which we consider excellent recommendation.

This school is one in which the parents co-operate with the teacher and where the fathers as well as the mothers visit the school, not from curiosity but from the deep interest they are not afraid to manifest, and to encourage their children. This is as it should be. Need I say this school was a success?

No. 17.—LAMPREY.

Summer term of eight weeks and fall term of twelve weeks both taught by Miss Mary A. P. Greene, a teacher of some experience. This is for the most part a backward school and in which few teachers can do themselves justice, not being able to classify it with any degree of satisfaction. There is too little effort on the part of most of the pupils, as a consequence there is a great demand for help from the teacher.

It is an unworthy ambition in any of our boys or girls that skip portions of a book or from one book to another without first conquering all there is in the way. "They who reach the top boys, first must climb the hill."

There was a considerable advancement notwithstanding there was considerable unpleasantness for a part of the term.

NO. 18.—IRON WORKS DISTRICT.

Spring term of eight weeks, Mrs. Carrie M. Leyland, teacher. No eulogistic remarks of one could add aught to Mrs. Leyland's enviable reputation as a teacher. The methods of this teacher are of a high order of excellence, clear and forcible in her explanations, allowing nothing to be passed over without a thorough knowledge of the principles. She did for this school all that was possible for a teacher to do, but some failed to profit by her instruction. Improvement generally good.

Winter term of twelve weeks, taught by Miss Eva E. Lamprey, a graduate of Laconia High school. Miss Lamprey came to this school well recommended, and the committee found her possessing superior qualifications, a happy talent for imparting instruction, a deep sense of the importance of the trust committed to the teacher, and was untiring in her efforts to promote the best interests of those under her care. When such efforts meet a due response on the part of the scholars, the best results cannot fail to follow. Here are some very good, bright and intelligent scholars, who seem to know what they attend school for, and are disposed to acquiesce with the rules of the school. While there are others who fail to appreciate the great importance of an education.

Composed as this school is of scholars of all ages and stages of advancement, the labors of the teacher, under auspicious circumstances, are arduous and wearing, and are rendered doubly so by the parental remissness and want of co-operation by a few of the parents. Tardiness and irregularity of attendance were the prevailing habits of many of the scholars.

Parents should teach their children, aye, their older sons and daughters, if need be, that the first and most important requisites in a good school are punctuality and good order. Improvement all that could be expected. The fall or winter term in this district requires a male teacher.

REMARKS.

The foregoing is a concise and careful statement of the condition and progress of the several schools, as they appeared to the school board at the various visits made by them to the spring and fall terms. We are pleased to congratulate the district on the general success of our schools during the past year. There have been no serious cases of insubordination but to the contrary, the majority of the scholars have very readily complied with all reasonable rules laid down for their benefit, and manifested a good degree of earnestness in gaining an education. It is our opinion that our children rank as well in scholarship in the most of their studies, possibly History and Grammar excepted, as do those of adjoining states notwithstanding the fact that one or two recent writers are constantly calling our attention to the schools of Massachusetts as models for us to immitate, which perhaps in some respects we should do well to do. We believe there should, and probably will be some change made in our present school laws. We believe that when two schools are so situated that they can be united without inconvenience and without necessitating expenses for conveyance of pupils exceeding one-half the cost of maintaining a school it should be done; that there has been one or two mistakes in erecting recently built school houses. We believe it is beyond a doubt, as nearly all the scholars in one of the districts are today, from choice, being accommodated in an adjoining school, and in this connection allow us to add without intentional injury to any one, that we believe it would be better in the future, should the district have cause to erect new buildings or remodel old ones, to place the contract in the hands of a competant committee, who understand the necessity and principles of ventilation. Both of the above referred to buildings are without means of ventilation except by the agency of doors and windows, which when used are the source of severe cold. Again we feel compelled to call the attention of our parents, and others interested, to the large amount of absences in our schools as shown by the several registers. This can be best remedied by the careful oversight of the parents. It will be readily remembered that the town at its annual meeting last spring voted to raise fifty dollars for the repairs of the school house in district No. 12. It was the intention of the committee to use it in connection with the unexpended balance of repair money in the hands of the treasurer. Afterwards it seemed to the board necessary that one of the school houses in the west division should be reshingled, consequently this was done, thus leaving an insufficient amount to repair the house in No. 12. We have caused an article to be inserted in the school warrant asking for an additional appropriation, which we hope the town will see fit to grant. We also sincerely hope the town will feel generous enough to raise in addition to what the law requires, a sum sufficient to enable the school board to maintain twenty-five weeks schooling for the ensuing year. In closing we wish to thank the parents, teachers and scholars for their uniform courtesy shown the board during the year.

REPORT ON REPAIRS.

A small sum was raised at the last meeting to repair Guinea Ridge school house. Upon thorough examination it is found to be insufficient, and consequently nothing has been done. The only repairs for 1894 was the reshingling of the Lamprey school house, No. 17.
